

Børne- og Familiepsykologisk Selskab

Workshop/supervisionsforløb med Jim Wilson

9.11.2011 - 25.1.2012 - 16.2.2012.

Expanding possibilities in work with children and their grown ups.

Three days of workshop, with opportunities to develop practice with young people, their families and the professionals involved in their lives.

The workshops are based on participants' cases and practice challenges, in order to build on learning between participants.

Jim Wilson draws on ideas and methods from systemic and narrative therapy for theory and method input.

The workshops will provide:

- A framework for enhancing practice opportunities in supervision and therapy
- An exploration of the personal "style" as a means of enhancing one's repertoire
- An exploration of movement, action, and story to enhance skills in engagement
- Attention to special moments of potential change; our attention to detail.
- Attention to the performative and rhetorical aspects of practice

Jim Wilson is a UKCP registered systemic psychotherapist with over 25 years practice as a therapist, supervisor and trainer , and currently works part-time as consultant systemic psychotherapist within the UK Health Service and as an independent consultant trainer and supervisor to Mental Health and Social Care organizations within the UK and mainland Europe.

Publications include; "The Performance of Practice; enhancing the repertoire of therapy with children and families". (Karnac 2007) and "Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder;ethical political and practical considerations of a sceptic" in Journal of Family Therapy (forthcoming).
