Dansk Psykodrama Selskab

Inviterer til 2 dages workshop med Kate Bradshaw Tauvon

Creating social transformative spaces through psychosociodrama

Psychosociodrama is an experiential method which facilitates change in a spontaneous and creative way with a dual focus on a person and his or her role in society. Through sharing our own life experiences we will explore therapeutic effects of groups when applied as an instrument for social integration; inter-cultural effects on the personal and how we personally can constructively influence the multicultural world around us. A workshop for anyone with an interest in using groups to facilitate personal and social change.

Kate Bradshaw Tauvon TEP is from the UK and Sweden – a psychotherapist, supervisor and teacher of psychotherapy; psychodramatist, group analyst and certified EMDR therapist, integrating theories and methodologies in private practice. She is the President of the International Association for Group Psychotherapy and Group Processes (IAGP), Co-founder of BPA and the Stockholm Institute for Psychodrama, Sociometry and Group Psychotherapy.
